

LEADERSHIP STRATEGEMS

The information age heralds an organic style of leadership based upon inspiration, guidance and mentoring. The LEADERSHIP STRATEGEMS program helps executives reconstruct their hierarchies naturally, with nested layers of responsibility, and create exciting work environments where collective intelligence emerges from group efforts.

In this modular program, leaders learn how to increase loyalty and cooperation, improve morale, reduce internal competition and turnover, and transcend common communication issues. Ten modules guide leaders to broader perspectives on creative power and increase the ability to guide and inspire from the heart. Leaders who take this approach are better able to engage staff as real team members working toward a shared vision and purpose.

This dynamic and fast-paced seminar helps leaders define a powerful vision for uniting group efforts that inspires a new level of personal responsibility and collaboration within their companies. Leaders learn how to cultivate direct communication and operate with greater group intelligence, honor the diversity of experience within their organizations, and fully utilize their valuable brain capital. Leaders gain tools for reconstructing their hierarchies as fractal patterns that are expansive and evolutionary. The benefits of reconstructing your hierarchy and organizing for continuous improvement include:
